

Sweet Packaging.

Americans consume over 450 million pounds of honey every year.

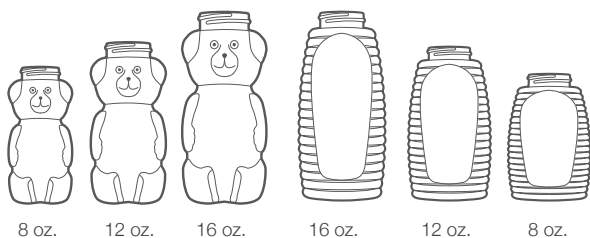

You need a packaging partner that can meet the demand—from the corner grocery to the big-box wholesaler—while helping shoppers feel good about your honey from the moment they choose it until it's time to recycle the jar.

Spoonable jars for specialty honeys

Jugs for bulk quantities

Easy-squeeze honeycombs

Kid-friendly honey bears

Our crystal-clear honey containers reveal the quality of our complete selection of 130 standard PET bottles in every shape, size and color. And we can customize any bottle to make your brand truly stand apart on the shelf.

Why PET?

It's easy to squeeze.

It's beautifully transparent.

It can be elegantly simple or elaborately detailed. And as the world's most recycled plastic, it compares favorably in environmental impact to glass, aluminum and other recyclable container materials.

VPET is the best for VALUE.

We're sweet on PET. It's all we do. That's why we can apply the best qualities of PET to your product and deliver your bottles faster, in the quantities you need, at a more affordable price.

VPET is the best for VARIETY.

With our huge inventory of standard preforms and molds, our customization capabilities, and three full-service plants, we can quickly take you from concept to distribution of all the bottles you need meet business growth and seasonal demand.

VPET is the best for VOICE.

Your voice, that is. We listen, and we respond. Whether you're a small, medium or large producer, we bring the same curiosity, collaboration and commitment to getting your project done and to your full satisfaction.
